You Can't Afford to Miss It. The result of th stopped, was :

WANTSI 643,617 "WANT" Advts. Published in The World during the 12 Months Ending September 30th, 1888. Nearly 50 Per Ct. More Than Any Other Paper.

THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST!

PRICE ONE CENT.

CHICAGO IS AFOOT.

STRIKE OF THE WEST SIDE STREET CAR COMPANY'S EMPLOYEES.

No Agreement Was Reached with President Yerkes and the Men Voted to Tie Up the Rond-Turbulent Scenes In Seaman's Hall-Proffers of Financial Aid-Police Force to Be Greatly Increased To-Day

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] CHICAGO, Oct. 9 .- The West Side street-cars are tied up this morning. The last car reached Madison and State streets at 4 o'clock and arrived at the barn at 5 o'clock.

Not another wheel will be turned. An all-night session of the West Side Conductors and Drivers' Association was begun towards midnight in Seaman's Hall.

Committees representing the North and South Side men were present. The South Side men urged the West Side men to stand firm and promised them moral and financial

At 3.50 the committee which was sent to Mr. Yerkes with the propositions of the men returned to the hall.

George Roperback made known to President Coyne Mr. Yerkes's answer, which was in effect that he would give the men his reply in effect that he would be in the morning."

Luke Copne asked the men if they were willing to wait any longer.

A shout of "No" went up which fairly shook the hall.

Coyne then put the proposition to strike and it was carried unanimously amid the greatest excitement. The men were simply wildly boisterous. They threw their caps in the air and shouted themselves hoarse.

The men insist upon 25 cents per hour for gripmen, 23 cents for trail and grip conductors and 22 cents for horse-car men. Mr. Yerkes, it is understood, offered 20 cents for horse-car men and 21 cents for grip-car men. In anticipation of a long struggle and to guard against possible outbreaks the police force is to be greatly increased.

A large force of patrolmen will be distributed over the West Side to look after the railroad company's property.

railroad company's property.

ACCUSED OF A HORRIBLE CRIME.

Mrs. Machett Says Her Husband Burned a Child's Body in a Stove.

The divorce suit of Georgiana Machett against Charles H. Machett, which came up before Judge Andrews, in Supreme Court, Special Term, yesterday, revealed a story of domestic relations such as is seldom beard nowadays.

There were two motions, one by defendant's counsel, Alexander Cameron, to confirm the report of Referee Hiram D. Ingersoll, who found that Mrs. Machett had betraved her husband's confidence with Frederick Williams, a youth of fifteen or eighteen years, at Beachmont, Mass., in 1879, or eighteen years, at Beachmon, Mass, in 1679, when, it is alleged, only a curtain separated the pair from the woman's three children, one a babe in arms, and Samuel Nottage and Lydia H. Straus, her own sister. The evidence upon which thairsport was founded was that of Nottage and Lydia Stram, with whom Mrs. Machett charges her husband was intimate. The other motion was made by G. M. Curtis, counsel for Mrs. Machett, who band was intimate. The other was a state of the by G. M. Curtis, counsel for Mrs. Machett, who saked for a stay of proceedings in order that new evidence might be introduced. Mrs. Machett, whose age is about thirty-five, bas three daughters, sixteen, twelve and ten years old, who were in sixteen, twelve and ten years old, who were in court with her.

It was alleged by the husband that John H. Groot and John F. Arnold had been intimate with the wife, but all these allegations were denied in the affidavits. Clara C. Macbeth, a bright girl of aixteen, stated that on the 7th day of January, 1882, her young sister Bessie told her that three or four days previously she had discovered that their father and their aunt were deceiving their mother. This occurred at the home of their parents in Herkimer street, Brooklyn. When she plearned this she sxidaimed: "Oh, it's awful," but owing to their great dread of the father they decided to say nothing of the matter. It was also testified to that this couple were in the habit of conducting themselves without any regard to propriety. Samuel Nottage is also accused of similar offenses with Lydia Siram.

Mrs. Machett makes another startling statement. She says that the reason this evidence was not proqued at the first hearing of the Helever.

Mrs. Machett makes another starting ment. She says that the reason this evidence was not produced at the first nearing of the Referee was due to the fact that she wished to avoid as was due to the fact that she wished to avoid as was due to the fact that she wished to avoid as much as possible a scandal, and her former counsel, Mr. Van Vechton, feit sure of winning the case without the use of it. It was to the effect that in March, 1885, Lydia Stram gave premature birth to a well-jormed child at the Herkimer street birth to a well-jormed child at the Herkimer street house. As soon as the child was born she alleges that her husband started a big fire in the stove and kept it going untilgue succeeded in desuroying every vestige of the infant. She asks that the testimony of Rebecca Smith be taken in corroboration. Her counsel were directed to prepare briefs and further evidence for submission Monday.

Futher Barry's Fondest Hone

Father John Barry, senior priest of the Archdiocese of New York, yesterday crowned many years of faithful service at St. Peter's Church, at New Brighton, with the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of his new parochial school. After a morning mass, celebrated by Father O'Keefe, Arcabiahop Corrigan delivered an address and subsequently administered the sacrament and benediction. In the afternoon in the presence of a large sudience, Archbishop Corrigan laid the cornerations and blessed the sob-lastic enterprise which is Father Barry's fondest hope.

Indorsements Piling Up on Mr. Coogan. Progressive Painters' Union No. 1 held a large meeting in Clarendon Hall last night, and unanimously indorsed the nomination of James J. Coogan for Mayor, following it with three rousing cheers.

Nearly all the labor organizations in the city will, it is said, indorse Mr. Coogan's nomination, and the United Labor Party is expected to place him in nomination. Many of the organizations of that party in the several Assembly districts have already indorsed him.

Brooklyn and Gov. Hill. Gaybert Barnes, Secretary of the State Committee of the United Labor party, writes to THE EVEN-Ing World saying that the report that his wing of that party in Brooklyn repudlated the nomination of Warner Miller is untrue. It is, nevertheless, true that organized labor in Brooklyn inderess Gov. Hill.

Somerset Woollen Mills Burned. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
EROWHEGAN, Me., Oct. 9. —The Somerset Woollen Mills at East Madason were destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $50,000; insurance on building and

It Is Not Unlawful.

Concress has enacted no law to restrain a person from going about in a badly constipated condition, or with a distressing sick headache, rush of blood to the head, had laste in the mouth, bilious complaint, or any kindred difficulty; but the laws of health and comfort will suggest to any one so afficied the wisdom of hastening to the nearest druggist for a 25-cent vial of Dr. Pirrack's Pirrack Purcarive Pirrack and Purcarive Pirrack of the liver, stomach and bowels. Purcly vegetable, pleasant to take, and perfectly harmiess.

Christian Alliance Meetings. The second day session of the Christian Alliance Conference was opened at 10 o'clock yesterday norning in the Central Baptist Church, on Wes Forty-second street. Over one hundred persons were present and the Rev. A. B. Simpson presided. Dr. John E. Cookman and the Rev. Henry Aston delivered addresses, which were frequently interrupted with fervent amens. The remainder of the session was devoted to the relation of personal experiences by converts.

REV. DR. PERK. The Christian Alliance must not be confounded rith the Christian Scientists, a prominent member with the Christian Scienists, a prominent member of the Alliance was particular to state. The Alliance people have been called "Faith-Curista," which name, however, is not self-assumed. They depend on the direct interposition of Divine power as a remedy for all illa, temporal, spiritual and physical, while Christian Scientists embrace many of the principles of esoterio Ruddhism, and rely on the influence of mind over matter to heal the sick. The Faith-Curists claim to have been equally successful.

The Faith-Curists claim to have been equally successful.

Only through prayer and a belief in its efficacy could Divine help be secured. One woman asked the prayers of the Conference for her son, whom she wanted to go tack to school. Then "Aunt Caroline," a verifiable memory of the days of "Uncle Tom," spoke. Her speech was pathetic in its homely sincerity, and from a low, subdued tone her voice became louder and louder. She swung her arms and swayed her body in the emotion sine felt.

"Bleas the Lord!" said she. "He is just as good to us sinners with a black DR John E. Cookman, with a black DR John E. Cookman, with a black DR John E. Cookman.

she. "He is just as good to us sinners with a black DR. JOHN E. COCKMAN, skin as he is to you sinners with a white skin. Once when I backsild I met the Lord on his way. 'How are you, Lord?' I said; 'I said; 'I said; seen you for a long time.' 'Oh, I am pretty well. How are you?'says he. 'I am sick and waked, Lord. I am. Can't you help me once more?' Then he blessed me, and I have been happy ever since."

The inquiry and prayer meeting was opened at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Peek, of Boston. He said that he wanted not head talk, but talk from the heart, and would answer as far as was in his power sil questions springing from hearts that felt the influence of the Spirit.

Some one saked: 'Where does the soul rest after parting from the body?" The reverend gentleman asked: 'How should I know?" and then said that the question was of a too metaphysical nature.

Some one wanted to know if when a person is wholly sanctified the tendency to sin was wholly removed. This the Doctor could not answer, as it depended on the sanctified.

A young woman with a subdued voice inquired to know if a prayer is not answered how long the praying must be continued. The speaker said there was a wide difference at times. He illustrated with an anecdote.

After the assistant pastor, Mr. Fonk, had led in o us sinners with a black DR. JOHN E. COOKMAN.

praying must be continued. The speaker said there was a wide difference at times. He litustrated with an anecdote.

After the assistant pastor, Mr. Penk, had led in a hymn a gray-haired woman wanted to be prayed for, that God might fill hes heart with such spiritual wisdom that she might bear part of the burden of the great city's error and serrow. 'My heart burns when I think of the misery and sin here," ahe said. 'I want to be consecrated and held away for at least a minute before any one spoke; then a man with a baritone voice said. 'Yes, and we want more of that yearning.'

Addresses followed by Rev. Mr. Gookman, Rev. Dr. Molbride, of Brooklyn, and Rev. Dr. Ward, of Newark. Services were also held during the evening. To-day a "holiness session" will be held. To-morrow will be devoted to the "Lord's coming," Thursday and Friday to divine history, and Saturday to missionary reports. The delegates to the Conference are steadily arriving,

THEY WEIGHED IN TO-DAY.

The Me Auliffe-Dacey Light-Weight Champlouship Close at Hand.

The prize-fight for the light-weight championship of America, between famous Jack Mc-Auliffe and Billy Dacey, will soon be a thing of the past, for the battle will be waged inside the next twenty-four hours. It will be to a finish with skin gloves.

As soon as the agreement had been signed the men began training. McAuliffe knew that he had a large contract on his hands and left no stone unturned to get himself in fine trim. Dooney Harris was engaged as trainer and after four weeks of hard work Jack was brought down to weight.

Dacey, on the other hand, was in good condition when the match was made, so had lit-dition when the match was made, so had little work to do in training.

To-day having been set down for the fight to come off, the men, with their trainers, were on hand at an early hour this morning to weigh in. McAuhife, with Dooney Harris, was the first to arrive. Dacey, with Tommy Barnes, arrived about ten minutes later, McAulife looked very big in a heavy checked auit.

aut.

They were stripped of their outer clothing and were weighed in their ring costumes.

Jack tipped the beams at 131 pounds, and

Dacey weighed just 130.

Dacey looked by far the better. He is in the pink of condition, and his eyes are bright. McAuliffe looked rather pale, and as if he were overrained.

The battle is for a stake of $5,000 and the Police Gazette diamond belt, that represents the light weight championship, now held by McAuliff.

Bitten by a Copperhend Sanke.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 9. -John M. Foote, o Northford, was recently bitten by a copperhead make three feet long. He hurried off to a doctor, who cut the finger open all about Notes of the Campaign.

The business men of the Seventa Assembly Dis-rict are going to raise a handsome Cleveland and faurman banner this evening at Greenwich and evenih avenues. Prominent speakers will address Sevenih avenues. Prominent speakers will address the meeting.

A mess-meeting of the Young Men's Democratic Cinh, of the Twentieth Assembly District, will be been at Progress Hall, 845 Third avenue, at 8.30 o'clock this evening, to ratify the county ticket. Addresses will be made by Edward it. Whitney, John A. Beall, James Byrne and J. Rockwell Pay.

The E. S. Lakeman Association, of the Twentieth Assembly District, which has headquarters at 966 First avenue, has attained a membership of 30c, it has indorsed Cleveland, Thurman and fill, and yesterday it fluing to the breeze a tanner with the portraits of these candidates. The officers of the Club are John J. Mulligan, President; Bernard J. McConville, Corresponding Secretary; A. G. Clambour, Recording Secretary, and Edward Dolan, Tressurer.

The James Crotty Association, of the Ninth Assemily District, has indorsed the Democratic National and State tickets, and also the Tammany Hall county ticket. The Association has put out a handsome transparency, and is composed of fifty of the most active young men of the district. Its officers are D. M. Mahony, President; James O. Dwyer, Vice-President; F. Hoffman, Recording Secretary; James J. Mooney, Financial Secretary; Wm. O'Dwyer, Treasurer.

THE GUEST WAS RAVING MAD

AND HE MADE A BIG STIR AT THE BISCIA-DERE HOUSE.

His Shricks Disturbed the Other Guests in Their Early Morning Dreams-The Hotel Register Bore Evidence to His Plentitude of Names, but He Found a New One When Taken to the Hospital.

The guests in the Belvedere House, at Nineteenth street and Fourth avenue, were rudely aroused from slumber at 3.30 o'clock this morning by the piercing shrieks of a maniac. He was struggling in the hotel office in the arms of the night clerk and a porter, but his screams could be heard throughout the house. men had all they could do to hold him. He wanted to get upstairs, and if he had succeeded there is no knowing what he might not have done.

Some of the guests and the hotel employees ran into the street and found Patrolman Donovan, of the West Thirtieth street station louse. He returned to the hotel, and with his assistance the porter and clerk finally quieted the manisc. An ambulance was sent for, and he was removed to Bellevue Hos pital.

Dr. Hubner, who attended him, says his mind is completely shattered. His name could not be definitely ascertained. He went to the Belvedere House for the first time last Thursday evening. Then he registered as Theodore Handrich.

Theodore Handrich.

He is a fine-looking German, about forty-one years old. He was quiet and well dressed, and although it was noticed that he had been and although it was noticed that he had been drinking he was given a room and no trouble was expected. He went away early next morning, but returned again the same evening. He was much the worse for liquor then and registered under a different name. He went to bed at once, however.

In conversation next day he told some of the people about the hotel that he was a professor of music. It was noticed then that his actions were strange, and his manner excited. He went away in the afternoon and did not return until last evening. He then paid for a room and signed his name on the book as Charles Schraeder. He went out about 8 o'clock and did not return until 3 a. M. to-day.

about 8 o'clock and did not return until 3 A. M. to-day.

The clerk saw at a glance that he had been drinking too much and advised him to go to his room at once. He refused to do so, and began to talk in a boisterous way. He picked up several articles from the clerk's desk as if he was going to smash things with them, but the clerk managed to get them away from

he was going to smash things with them, but the clerk managed to get them away from him. Then he began to shriek and run up and down the hallway.

Without waiting to get his key, he finally attempted to dash upstairs, yelling at the top of his voice, when the clerk interfered, and the struggle ensued.

At the hospital the man gave his name as Charles Practorius, and said he was an organist. He gave his residence as 227 East Seventy-first street, but that is a vacant lot, and no person of that name is known in the vicinity.

Nothing of value was found in his clothing. He is not married he says.

THE VOTE WILL BE A BIG ONE.

First Day Registration Indicates a Great Increase.

Politicians have long been counting upon vote in this city at the coming election that will knock all previous records into a cocked hat. From the observations taken by an EVENING WORLD reporter on the morning of with a good deal of confidence, that these predictions of the politicians regarding the size of the vote this year bid fair to be amply realized.

Whether it was the bright, sunny weather and the cool, bracing air that brought the people out so early, or the unusual interest in the campaign now in progress, it would be difficult to say. Perhaps, as an old-timer of the Sixth Ward remarked, it was a little of both, for if is certain that never before have the poll clerks and election inspectors had so much business to attend to so early in the morning on the first day of registration.

The increased liveliness among the voters

The increased liveliness among the voters was particularly noticeable in the uptown districts, where it is the usual thing for them to wait at least until the second day, and in a great many instances until the last, before they duly record their intention to cast their ballots.

they duly record their intention to cast their ballots.

This was a fine thing for the Boards of Registry, and the young men who kept the books used to have great times sitting around the stove, smoking and swapping stories and entertaining the various "coppers" who dropped in during the day with spicy yarns and the latest political gossip.

At five consecutive bureaus of registration above Twenty-third street visited by The Evening World reporter this morning it was said that this morning's registration up to that time was from 10 to 15 per cent, higher than it was in 1884, when the heaviest registration over known in this city took place.

A great many houses where a few years ago there were only two or three voters, turned out five or six now. This was especially true of the boarding houses, showing that the floating population was going to get in its vote this year with a vengeance.

On the other hand, right around Mayor Hewitt's residence there was reported to be a falling off and Gramgery Park was away be

On the other hand, right around Mayor Hewitt's residence there was reported to be a falling off, and Gramercy Park was away below its record in the matter of registration. However, if the average of the first two or three hours of the merning holds goods during the day the returns will show an asionishing increase in the brown stone-front voters.

Downtown, there was the usual rush as soon as the registering places were quanted.

Downtown, there was the usual rush as soon as the registering places were opened. For the great majority of the laboring population, that is the only hour when an opportunity for registering can be found. The clerks had all they could attend to, and it was not until it got well on towards noon that they had a chance to knock off and take a breath, especially over in the crowded east side tenement house districts. The indications are favorable for an overwhelming Cieveland and Hill vote in the chelming Cieveland and Hill vote in downtown wards, and as for the uptown dis-tricts, knowing ones about the Democratic Headquarters are confident that the increased registration means a corresponding gain for both the State and National Democratic both the State and National Democratic tickets.

It was reported this morning that the Woman's National Suffrage Association was going to make another desperate effort to assert its rights. Rumor said that a number of the more daring and case-hardened members were going to assemble at some place in Fourteenth street at any early hour, and after thoroughly arranging their programme would sally forth in a body, raid the nearest registration place, capture the books and papers, intimidate the clerks and compel the latter to register them clorks and compel the latter to register them by sheer force. by sheer force.

The rumor could not be verified, however, and the mysterious place of meeting could not be discovered, although several of Inspector Byrnes's detectives were said to be on the still hunt for the prospective law-breakers and bulldozers.

THE ROADSCULLING OARSMEN.

NEW YORK, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1888.

A Cool Head and Steady Work Should Win in Their Race.

Interest in the unique contest now waging at Madison Square Garden seems to be permanent, and there was a better crowd in at tendance yesterday afternoon and evening than is wont to attend the second day's performance in a go-as-you-please. The score at midnight, when the racing

| Billes, Laps. | Bubear | 172 5 | Bubear | 172 5 | Eargan | O'Connor | 164 1 | Lee | Hamm | Rosa | 151 - Conley | McKay | 149 2 | East | People reason that though the roadsculler is not a rowing shell, and an eighth-mile track on the floor is not exactly like a threemile course with turn on the water, the oars men engaged in this contest are first-class men in their profession; that they are exer-cising the same muscles as if they were in their shells, and that the chances of accident the water.

Therefore, there is the same element of luck, and, besides all that, the spectators have the benefit of seeing all the best carsmen of the world, practically, at the same time.

Each day's work may be called a heat in the great race which is to find its climax Saturday night, and it has already been pretty clearly demonstrated that it is to the cool-headed, steady oarsman that the race will or should as headed, steady caraman that the race will or should go.

Wallace Ross, East, Conley and Hamm have from the start been spurting for the gallery. They have received plenty of applause. But they have had a modicum of accidents, too, consequent on the haste, which they have not made slowly, according to the old adags.

which they have not made slowly, according to the old adage.
And so they have dropped from their places in the far van during the first hour or two down to the tail end of the procession.

Jake Gaudaur, patient, persevering and as strong as an ox, has kept right on with only a few slight interruptions by accident when some hot-headed fellow has run into him.

During yesterday's nine hours of work he scored 98% miles, and at midnight when the men retired, his score was 172 miles 5 laps, with John Hercules Teemer 7% miles behind him, and O'Connor and Plaisted following.

THE POLICY DECLARED VOID.

Mr. De Jongh Wants an Explanation from an Issurance Company.

In the Chambers of the Court of Commo Pleas yesterday the counsel for Abraham D. De Jongh applied for and obtained an order requiring the New York Life Insurance Company to show cause on the 15th inst. why a peremptory writ of mandamus should not be issued to compel said company to give the relator full information as to the date when and the cause for said company declaring void its policy No. 219,197, upon the life of Francisco Means y Giron, of Santiago de Cuba.

The policy, which is only good for fifteen years, is for $3,000, and was issued March 4, 1886, all premiums having been fully paid up to March 4, 1889. The policy has been assigned by the insured, and on Sept. 7, 1888, the company consented in writing to its being assigned to Mr. De Jongh.

The application is made because the company refuses to give any information explanatory of its action, which was taken without notice to the policy-holder.

ON THE DIAMOND.

the first day of registration it may be said, Standing of the League and Association This Morning. LEAGUE.

Games Scheduled for To-Day.

New York vs. Pittsburg at the Polo Grounds indianapolis at Boston—cloudy.
Indianapolis at Philadelphia—clear,
Chicago at Washington—clear.

ASSOCIATION. Brooklyn vs. Cleveland, at Washington Park. Brooklyn—clear. Athletic vs. Baltimore, at Philadelphia—olear. Konsas City at Cincianati—clear. Louisville at St. Louis—clear.

Among the Amateurs The Young Orions defeated the Church Street by the score of 17 to 32. The features of the gam were the pitching of Burke and catching of Wilson The Aliertons defeated the Caristadts at Caristadt by the score of 2 to 0. The feature of the game was the pitching of Morgan, of Alierton, he striking out 12 men.

striking out 18 men.

The Jacksons defeated a picked nine at Hoboken, N. J., by the score of 31 to 9. The features of the game were the betting and catching of the Jack sons. Batteries—Jacksons, McLaugalin and Me Nuity; Picked Nine, McCornel and Veen.

The Olympic Athletic Club defeated the Elmhurs Club, of Yonkers, at Mannattan Athletic Grounes, The Datterles were E. Palmenberg and W. Palmen The batteries were E. Palmenberg and W. Palmenberg, of the Olympic Athletic Club, and J. Bracken and Donobue, of the Elmhurst. The score: Olympic A. C. 0.2 2 8 5 1 8-16 Elmburst. 0.1 0 5 1 0 0-4 At Long Island, the A. D. T., of District 28, defeated the Dark Secrets. The features of the game were the great pitching and the great hit of Hagan, of the A. D. T. Batterics—Carey and Russell, of the A. D. T.; Barry and Kelly, of the Dark Secrets. 1 Batterics—Carey and Russell, of the A. D. T.; Barry and Kelly, of the Dark Secrets. 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-2 A. D. T. 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 2-4

Why Miss Wheeter Wasn't Married

LONG ISLAND, N. J., Oct. 9. - The long-expecte wedding of Miss Millicent Wheeler did not occu on Monday of last week, although invitations were out and all the preparations were made. The bridgeroom elect was cetained in Philadelphia in the House of Detention, as a winness to the killing of a man by an accident on the street. The wedding is now announced to take place on Nov. 26.

ISPECIAL TO THE WORLD,

A STARTLING THEORY

Is It "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" in Real Life?

Whitechapel's Mystery May Have an Astounding Sequel.

London's Detectives Said to Be Working on an Extraordinary Clue.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.] LONDON, Oct. 9. - I am informed by a gentleman, who stands in close relations at Scot. land Yard, that several of the leading detectives have thrown over the clues and ideas heretofore taken up and are working on an entirely new and most remarkable theory.

This theory is that the horrible crimes which have so disturbed the city and interested the entire world are the result of a case in real life of " Dr. Jekvil and Mr. Hyde." Furthermore, the detectives believe that the existence of such a case is directly attributable to the excitement and morbid reflections caused by a mind dwelling upon the circumstances detailed in the story and play just Parallels are ingeniously drawn between the acts of the Whitechapel monster, who not only kills but mutilates his victims, and the frenzied brutality with which the Mr. Hyde of the fiction stamps upon the girl, whom he knocks down and injures in the deserted and echoing streets at midnight, as told in the first part of the book.

Not only have the police been brought to this astounding position, through what they claim is direct evidence corroboratory of such a theory, but they are industriously working with a particular individual in view, and they believe that they are truly upon the right with a particular individual in view, and they believe that they are truly upon the right track. If it be so, London is promised for a not far distant future a sensation of such magnitude that the tragedies leading to it will sink almost into insignificance beside it. My informant tells me that a well-known, prosperous resident of Grosvenor square is the man thus under police surveillance. He moves in the best of society and is completely removed from derogatory suspicion among those who are his daily associates.

This man, however, as I am assured, has been tracked and traced until it is absolutely established that he does lead a double life. This Dr. Jekyll lives for the eminently respectable world in which he moves. The other self, like Mr. Hyde, lives mysteriously, revoltingly. This latter self has been tracked to the Whitechapel district, and has been seen, in its form of a man, skulking stealthily about dark corners and sileys, or stalking moodily through deserted side streets.

This duality of life and conduct established it remains, of course, to positively connect the subject with the deeds of which he is suspected, and this, at least one leading detective, has hopes of accomplishing.

Of course there are some who sooff at the sensational theory, and allege that at the worst the Grosvenor square Dr. Jekyll visits Whitechapel in curiosity and perhaps with a desire to apprehend the murderer other than to commit a nurder. But I send the information for what it is worth. The story is certainly interesting and striking, and not half so improbable as many of the absurd clues that the police have followed in these cases.

Great secrecy is maintained by the police these cases. Great secreey is maintained by the police in the matter, and only very remote references to it have been published here.

GOING FOR THE SUGAR TRUST.

Suit Begun to Annul the Havemeyer Elder Refinery Company's Charter.

The "Old Roman" recently fulminated the doctrine that the wicked combination known as Trusts can be controlled by exist ing laws and, acting on this suggestion. body-blow was dealt at that particularly fia grant abuse, the Sugar Trust, yesterday,

Leave was obtained from Supreme Court Justice Morgan J. O'Brien for the Attorney General to commence an action to annul the charter of the Havemeyer & Elder Sugar Re charter of the Havemeyer & Elder Sugar Refining Company.

Gen. Roger A. Pryor, Tammany Hall's anti-trust champion, represents AttorneyGeneral Tabor and in his petition alleges that the acts and omissions of the offending corporation amount to a surrender of its rights and franchises.

The act particularly complained of is the entering into a combination with others to arbitrarily control the price of sugar, by the action of which combination or trust several sugar refineries have been closed and many sugar refineries have been closed and many workmen thrown out of work and reduced o want. This combination is alleged to be a crimi

This combination is alleged to be a criminal conspiracy and oppressive to the people and detrimental to the welfare of the State and the United States.

John E. Parsons, who is the legal representative of the Sugar Trust, said this morning to an Evening World reporter:

"If this action is brought to introduce evidence regarding the recent closing of the De Castro & Donner refineries, I can say that the custom is to run those works only during the summer months, and the workmen know that they are only to have employment for a certain length of time.

"As to the legality of the combination," continued Mr. Parsons, "we stand ready to establish it. It is not the corporations that are combined, but the stockholders who are interested in the stock of every one of the corporations. These stockholders have as much right to acquire such an interest as Mr. Vanderbilt has to own controlling interests in the New York Central, the Harlem and the West Shore Railroads, and no one denies him that right."

denies hin that right."

Gen Pryor had nothing to say further than that he thought there existed good cause for the annulment of the clarter of the Hayermeyer & Edder Company in the evidence of the combination.

Young, Pretty and Tired of Life. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, ! WATERTOWN, Mass., Oct. 9. -An unknown we man, about twenty years of age, medium height, fair and regular features, was seen yesterday after noon strolling along the road between Cambridge Shortly after 5 o'clock her body was found in a small road near the tilen Hotel. The lady was very pretty and well dreased. Her body was removed to the police station, but has not yet been identified.

Henry Mouett Dying. Mr. Henry Monett, the General Passenger Agent of the New York Central Railroad, is dying of pienrisy at his residence in Yonkers. His physi-cians say that all hope has fied and that their pa-tient is sinking rapidly.

THE FEVER YET WITH THEM.

But Jacksonville's Season of Gloom Soor Must Close.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 9.—With the coo and pleasant weather of a Florida Winter the germ-killing frost has not yet arrived, and the yellow-fever microbes are still insidiously sapping the fountain of many precious human lives. Although the scourge has abated most perceptibly in its fury, it is still with us, and daily finds fresh victims. New cases are yet being reported, and occasionally comes the sad intelligence that another life has gone

One death and five new cases have already been reported to-day.

Yesterday there were four deaths and fifty new cases.

The plague has developed all the charity and goodness that dwell in the Jacksonvillian heart. Many of the landlords have announced their intention of collecting no rent for their tenements for the season during which the fever has raged here.

The memory of Col. J. J. Daniel it is proposed to perpetuate by the erection of a grand hospital at the Sand Hills.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 9.—The fever's work is practically ended here and the frightened

JACKSON, MISS., Oct. 9.—The rever's work is practically ended here and the frightened people are returning to their homes. There are still four fever patients confined to their homes and the quarantine is not yet lifted.

DECATUR, Ala., Oct. 9.—Two deaths of colored people are reported here to-day. State Health Officer Cochran advises the people not to fly the city, but to isolate themselves as much as possible.

The news has reached us here of the death of Charles Parker and his entire family, consisting of his wife and two small children, at Oak Mountain. Parker and his family fled from Decatur at the breaking out of the fever. They were denied a refuge everywhere, being driven away by the shotgun police, and all died of the fever and exposure at the foot of the mountain.

FERNANDINA NEEDS AID.

All the Fever Funds Are Growing in a Most Gratifying Way.

Fernandina is now the object of well-directed aid in the way of money and supplies from yellow-fever relief funds. There have been nearly a thousand cases of fever there, nearly all the sick need assistance and the laboring people are falling upon the benevo-lent associations for aid and support. The World fund has received an addition of $63.25, and the funds for telegraphers and newspaper men are also growing gratifyingly.

George Francis Train's lecture in Clarendon Hall Wednesday evening for the benefit of the relief fund will be upon his personal reminiscences of yellow fever.

PLOT TO OVERTHROW POWDERLY. Litchman, Campbell and Layton Interested in the K. of L. Deal. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. PITTSBURG, Oct. 9 .- One of the biggest leals in K. of L. circles has just been completed. Its accuracy is vouched for by a knight and ex-officer of the order, whose name is in the possession of the Post, which prints the story to-day. The chief features of the plot are the overthrow of Powderly and the elevation of ex-Secretary Litchman.

A number of persons are implicated, among them being Layton, who heretofore has been presumably a great friend of the Master

Workman. The fact which verifies the story to a very great extent is that Layton, who, the public has been led to believe, was recently in ashington, has actually been in Indiana

The object of his mission there is said to have been the advancement of the Republican ticket.

The slate as arranged is:
Litchman for Master Workman.
President James Campbell, of the Window-Glass Workers' Association, for Worthy oreman. Robert D. Layton for General Secretary. Everything has been prepared, the pines laid and a systematic effort, extending throughout the order, is being engineered to win the order over to Litchman.

A MISTERIOUS SUMMONS. Issued by Mr. Quay to Republican Business

Men for a Meeting To-Day. Republicans are wondering to-day what may be the inmost meaning of a letter issued from the headquarters of the Republican National Committee, marked "Confidenial," and signed by Matt Quay, to this ef-feet: DEAR SIR: I would like to have a a brief co ence with a few business men on Tuesday after noon, the 7th lust., at 1. 50 o'clock, to Parior D. R.-Fifth Avenue Hotel, on an important public matter of national interest. Will you college me with your esence.

P. S. -Kindly show this at the door. It may be, think the disciples of the G. O. P., that Mr. Quay intends to fry more "fat" out of the rich business men of this city, out of which a fund may be formed for keeping up the betting on Harrison and Morton.

Winsted Still Troubled with Rels.

Winsted, Cont., Oct. 9. - Winsted is suffering eriously from an epidemic of cels. The lake from which the village obtains its water supply seems to which the valage dotains its water apply seems to be full of the aquirming monaters.

Several limes during the past few months they have got into pipes and caused much trouble.
Water Commissioner Rvan took thirteen from the pipes on Saturday, and is making a big had every day now. The L. C. Richerds Hardware Company was compelled to shut down two days recause the creatures had completely filled their pipes.

Verdiet for Minister Towns. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, ! BOSTON, Oct. 9. - Rev. Edward Towne, of Cambridge, sued Charles Scriber & Sons' publishing house of New York for $10,000, because, he said, they broke a contract which he signed to make an index of the encyclopaidia Britannica. The jury gave a vertict for the minister and awarded him $5.500. The New York publishers petitioned for a new trial.

Hobbed A Poor Woman. Hannah Wagner was going through Washington street yesterday afternoon, on the way to her landlord's office with her rent money, $8.50, in her hand, when a bold thief knocked it out of her hand and ran off with it. Patrick Schooleld was esp-tured by Officer Jeckel, of the Church street sta-tion, and held on Mrs. Wagner's charge by Judge Patterson this moraing.

A Wife-Murderer Gets Only One Year. PROVIDENCE, Oct. 8.— William Browning. charged with murdering his wife, was found guilty this morning and sentenced by Judge Wilbur to one year in the state prison. The sentence is surprisingly light.

PRICE ONE CENT.

DIED IN A BLAZING ROOKERY

TWO MEN AND TWENTY-SEVEN HORSES WAIT IN VAIN FOR RESCUE.

Four Flimsy Stables Caught Fire in the Early Morning-There Was Delay in Opening the Fire-Box and the Buildings Burned Like Tinder-One Man's Body Found in the Ruins and Another Will

A fire, by which one man has already lost his life and in which twenty-seven horses also died, occurred in East Thirty-fourth street early this morning.

The burned buildings were used as stables, and extended along Thirty-fourth street from Nos. 404 to 410 and back about the same distance. They were old, dried-up, single story affairs, and it is a wonder that they were al! lowed to stand.

About 1.40 o'clock a policeman was passing the rookeries, when his attention was attracted by a smell of smoke. He went up to the gates and peering in between the cracks saw the whole place in a blaze. He ran to the southwest corner of First avenue and Thirty-fourth street and st-tempted to open the fire alarm box. He was unable to do so, and three other people who carried fire keys failed in a similar attempt, Finally an axe was procured, the box was pried open and the alarm sent. Engines 21, and 16, and Hook and Ladders 7 and 2 under the command of Chief Fisher, responded, and three streams of water were soon pouring and three streams of water were soon pouring in on the flames.

In the meautime a man terribly burned rushed from the building and cried out to the people to save his friend, who had been caught inside.

He was taken to Bellevue Hospital, and it was learned that he was John Boach, twenty-one years old, and employed by Korminsky Brothers, newsdealers, of 212 West Thirty-fourth streat.

fourth street. It was long after 4 o'clock when the flames were sufficiently subdued to allow of any at-were sufficiently subdued to allow of any attempt at an entrance.

When the firemen and a citizen named William White got inside they discovered the body of Thomas Carr, nineteen years old, who was also employed by Korminsky Bros.

They lifted him on a sheet and carried him across the street, from whence he was removed to the Morgue.

The two young men slept in a wagon in the stable with the intention of starting downtown at 1.30 o'clock for their supply of morning papers.

ing papers.

Roach lived at 823 East Thirty-second street, but Carr's address could not be learned. It seems that up to two months ago he lived with his mother in Greenpoint. For he lived with his mother in Greenpoint. For some reason unknown he ran away and came to New York.

How the fire originated is a mystery. It started in the rear of Maguire's stable, at 464, and spread until the whole ulace was a seething mass. The clang of the fire bells brought the tenants of the nearby tenements to the windows, but they saw that they were in no immediate danger and a panic was averted.

When the fire started there were twenty-seven horses in the place. One escaped, but died a few hours later. The building was occupied by cab and truck owners, and their losses aggregate $10,000, estimated as follows: Michael Maguire, $3,000: Henry Korminsky, $5,000; Edward Donehue, $1,500; Daniel Mahoney, $2,000; William Barry, $300; Thomas Maguire, $300 Michael McDermott, $300. $2,000; William Barry, $300; Thomas Maguire, $300, Michael McDermott, $300; John Brady, $200; Mrs. William Lindslev, $300; Patrick Farrolly, $300; Alexander Walker.

Patrick Farrelly, $300; Alexander Walker. $300.

The exact number of cabs and trucks lost could not be ascertained. The Avenue B Railroad Company lose $50 on the starter's office, which was gutted.

The building was owned by D. D. Withers, the noted turfman, and he will lose $1,000.

At the Bellevue Hospital at noon Dr. Leyton, who has charge of Roach, reported that his patient was still alive, but he entertained no hone of his recovery.

no hope of his recovery.

THE WHEAT CORNER DID IT. Francis Williams Killed Himself Because His Firm Went Under.

A crowd of clerks were gathered in the office of Williams, Black & Co., at 1 William street, this morning, discussing in low tones the suicide of the senior member of the firm, Francis W. Williams, who shot and killed bimself yesterday in a room at the Grand Union Hotel. Mr. Black, a member of the firm, mid to in Evening World reporter:

"It is indeed a sad affair. Mr. Williams was a whole-souled old gentleman, and when I heard of the sad ending of his life, I was

I heard of the sad ending of his life, I was surprised.

"For twenty-five years he took an active part in the business of the firm, and until our suspension on Sept. 28, he was all right.

"After that he began to grow morose, and although he came to the office every day he did not do anything particular. He brooded over our failure and said that he could not sleep nights. He was an old man, and could not bear up under the trouble.

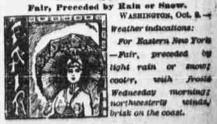

"Our failure was due to the fact that our margins were all tied up on account of the wheat squeeze, although we had plenty of money in margins. This preyed on his mind, and he being old unsettled it."

Mr. Black denied that there was anything wrong in the accounts of the firm.

A Vermout Post-Office Burglarized. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
NORTH TROY, VL., Oct. 9. —Burgiars blew 'epon

the post-office safe in this place last night and secured 150.

Postmaster Seaver was aroused by the explosion and stated for the store. He was shot at by the borgiars, who made their escape.

1868, 1867. 45 66 7 A. M. 43 68 12 M. ago for past awenty-four box

The Weather To-Day. Indicated by Stakely's tele-thermom